

GOMEZ PLEADS

He Criticizes Cleveland's Message on Cuba.

WANTS RECOGNITION OF WORLD

Exclusive Motto Is Absolute Independence.

He Says Cuba's Place is Among Free Nations—Purpose is to Establish Democratic Republic.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—General Maximo Gomez has given a statement to the Herald in which he discusses the message of President Cleveland on the Cuban situation. He says: "Our declarations at the time the manifesto was issued at Monte Cristo have been reaffirmed in every other document published since, and the world at large and the American people particularly have been made acquainted with our motives and aspirations.

"We have not asked Spain to grant that which could never satisfy us. The false assumption on which President Cleveland bases his statements should be no obstacle in the way of the constituted powers of the world in recognizing our belligerency or our independence and granting to Cuba the place which legitimately belongs to her among the free nations of the world.

"This declaration I make to the world at large, and especially to those who show interest in our behalf, that they may see no hindrance where there is none in granting us recognizing such recognizing is due us in the name of humanity, right and justice, even if it is not indispensable to the final triumph of our cause. We would welcome it if accorded us in the way tending to the honor and future advantage of the Cuban republic. Let this be borne in mind by those whose sympathies are with us and who are willing to lend us their support from any quarter of the globe. Let this be borne in mind by Americans whose goods are offered us, as well as by all Cubans.

"In conclusion, let one and all bear in mind that our only and exclusive motto is the absolute independence of Cuba, and that our only purpose is the establishment of a democratic, free and sovereign republic. M. GOMEZ."

SEARLES QUESTIONED.

Lexow Committee Wishes to Know About Stock Increase.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Feb. 19.—The legislature committee investigating the trusts and monopolies in this State resumed its inquiry this morning. Mr. Searles was on hand early and his examination was continued. Mr. Searles said there was very little profit in the business for five years before the trust was formed and denied that there was a sevenfold capitalization of the stock after the consolidation of the refineries.

He acknowledged that consumers had not received the full benefit of the decrease in the price of raw material. He said that the American Sugar Refining Company was not a monopoly or a quasi-monopoly in any sense of the word; that it was formed in the interest of the consumer and that there was no reason why the State should interfere with its business in any particular.

In reply to another question Mr. Searles said that he believed there was as much labor if not more employed now than before the consolidation.

Lawyer Fuller was then recalled as an expert and said that the sugar trust was formed to reduce expenses, and there was more machinery in use now than when it was formed, consequently less men.

Mr. Searles said that the price of sugar was fixed by the daily state of the market and not by the refining company. He explained that the quality rate book accepted by the grocers and the companies only dealt with the freight. This contrast, the witness admitted, was to stamp out competition, but was equally for the benefit of the grocer and the consumer, because sugar was sold to everybody at the same price.

In reply to another question the witness denied that the company could close all the factories in any State and still be able to supply the country; also that there was a special sum set aside for supporting idle refineries.

Senator Lexow wanted the witness to admit that under the code of rules adopted by the wholesale grocers the American Sugar Refining Company controlled the price of sugar all over the country, but Mr. Searles could not see it that way.

The witness said that there were about 3000 shareholders when the original American Sugar Refining Company was formed. There were about 9000 now. The stock before the consolidation was in the hands of a few private people and the great public could not gain access to it.

The following is the capital stock of the fifteen original companies that composed the sugar trust, according to the witness: Havemeyer & Elder $500,000, Dick & Meyer $200,000, De Castro $250,000, Moller & Sierck $120,000, Orynaud $100,000, F. O. Mathieson & Wiechers $400,000, Brooklyn $300,000, Havemeyer $1,000,000, Forest City $300,000, Boston $650,000, Standard $1,000,000, Bay State $225,000, St. Louis $750,000, Louisiana $450,000, Planters $250,000.

CLEVELAND'S FAREWELLS.

Last Public Evening Reception at the White House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The last evening reception of this Administration was given by the resident and Mrs. Cleveland at the White House tonight. It was held for the benefit of the general public.

The crowd was a record breaker in point of attendance, it being estimated that between 5000 and 6000 people had been in line during the two hours of the reception. Many persons stood in line for hours before reaching the doors of the White House. The members of the Cabinet and their wives, besides a number of friends were members of the receiving party. Notwithstanding passed off in an excellent manner. General Wilson and Lieutenant Gilmore made the introductions and the Marine band furnished the music. After the reception the receiving party enjoyed a luncheon before separating.

ADMIRAL CALHOUN DEAD

End Came at His Washington Residence of Heart Failure.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Rear-Admiral Edmund R. Calhoun, retired, died of heart failure tonight at his residence here, aged 75. He appeared well and hearty almost up to the moment he was stricken, and passed away before a physician could be summoned.

Rear-Admiral Calhoun served valiantly in the Mexican and Civil Wars. In 1861-62 he commanded the steamer Hunchback of the North Atlantic blockading squadron, and participated in several engagements. In 1863 he commanded the Ladona, and afterward the monitor Wehaken of the South Atlantic blockading squadron was under his charge.

In 1879-80 he was commandant at Mare Island Navy Yard, and was inspector of vessels in California at the time of his retirement in 1882. He leaves a widow and four children.

MORE EARTHQUAKES.

Mexican Town Has Shocks for Three Months.

COLIMA, Mexico, Feb. 18.—The people of this vicinity were treated to a shaking up last Saturday which for a time set almost the entire population to praying. An earthquake, which lasted ten seconds, was followed at intervals of two or three minutes by others of shorter duration for more than an hour. The cathedral tower perceptibly rocked, and it seemed for a time as if a disaster was certain. The streets were filled with people on their knees, while the priests did their utmost to console and pacify them.

The shocks were very distinct and seemed to run from north to south. The local papers gave the item four lines and said that "no lamentable disaster occurred." During the past three months there have been but six days when shocks have not been increasing in intensity.

HARVARD-YALE ATHLETICS.

Complete Reconciliation Effected by Camp and Brooks.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 14.—Harvard and Yale have at last signed a definite treaty and a complete athletic reconciliation has been effected. Walter Camp and William A. Brooks, Jr. drew up the agreement last evening, but it was not signed until this noon. It provides for baseball, football and track athletics to be agreed to by the undergraduate managers, and for an arbitration committee in case of a disagreement. As to the boat race this year Cornell appears to hold the key to the situation.

The signing of the agreement puts an end to a long suspense and will be received with great relief. The plan is tacitly that which Harvard presented to Yale months ago, but which without being actually refused, was strongly objected to. Every one in Cambridge is delighted.

Under the terms of the agreement there are to be annual contests in rowing, baseball, football and track athletics between the representative organizations of Harvard and Yale until the year 1902. A committee is to be appointed on or before April 1, 1897, to consist of one graduate of each university to whom shall be referred all disagreements in any way relating to athletics and all questions of eligibility. The decision of the committee is to be final.

In case of a disagreement between members of the committee it shall have power to call upon a third party to settle the particular question in dispute.

Yale is willing to make a third game in the Harvard-Cornell race in which it is understood that the first baseball game will be played in Cambridge on June 25th, which is the day before class day, with the second at New Haven on June 30th. If a third game is necessary it will be played a week later. The track athletic games will occur at New Haven on May 15th.

SALOONS MUST GO.

Washington Legislating Them Out of Existence.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Feb. 16.—Washington is on the verge of wiping out all of her saloons and wholesale liquor houses by adopting a prohibitory law similar to that governing the sale of liquors in South Carolina. The dispensary law known as the Cline bill passed the House today by a vote of 47 yeas to 30 noes, much to the surprise of the House itself. The measure was supported by nearly all the middle-of-the-road Populists and by a few silver Republicans. The proposed law puts full control of the liquor traffic in the hands of the Governor, but eliminates from the South Carolina law the profit system. The Governor appoints a State Commission which in turn appoints county commissioners and they appoint local dispensers, all liquor being handled through the State commission with a sufficient profit attached to pay all expenses of the different boards and dispensaries. No liquor is to be sold at retail to be drunk upon the premises and minors or drunkards are prohibited from receiving it. It is to be sold only in quantities not less than half a pint nor more than five gallons. The promoters are confident the measure will pass the Senate.

The House today passed a bill for a constitutional amendment to submit the initiative and referendum system for the control of elections. The Senate today passed a bill providing for a bounty on sugar.

VOLCANO IN ERUPTION.

Fire, Smoke and Ashes Spout from Mexican Crater.

TEPIC, Mexico, February 18.—The seismic disturbances which have been felt for the last three months along the coast have been much more pronounced during the past week and on Saturday the old volcano of Ceboruco began an active eruption. This was one of the smaller volcanoes and has never, in the memory of man, done much damage. The fires have never died out, and there have always been smoke and noxious gases arising from the crater, and numerous blow holes.

The first indication of renewed activity came Saturday at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when a sharp earthquake shock startled the people of Tepic. Almost immediately afterward clouds of smoke and ashes spouted from the crater and continued during the rest of the day. Saturday night the display was very beautiful from the reflection of internal fires, but by Sunday night the disturbance had again died down and only a thin cloud of bluish-ray smoke ascended from the crater.

EMIR OF NUPE SATISFIED.

Defeated African Monarch Suing for Peace.

BRASS, West Africa, Feb. 16.—The campaign conducted by the expedition of the Royal Niger Company against the Emir of Nupe is practically at an end. Daily excursions from Bida, the Fulah capital, prove that the enemy is disorganized, and that the Fulahs have dispersed in all directions. The Emir of Nupe and his leaders are suing for peace.

The prisoners captured by the English forces include the son of the late Sultan. A reward has been offered for the capture of the present Sultan, who is in hiding.

Chess-Player Dead.

LONDON, Eng., Feb. 21.—The Daily Mail has a dispatch from Paris stating that Steinitz, the chess-player, has died at Dr. Morosoff's institute, in Moscow, to which he was recently taken after losing his mental balance. He held the position of champion chess-player of the world from 1886 until 1894, when he was beaten by Lasker.

To Pay Sugar Bounty.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Senator Thurston today offered an amendment appropriating $1,083,156 to pay producers of sugar the balance on their claims audited and allowed under the sugar bounty provisions of the McKinley tariff act.

Explanation Demanded.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 22.—Secretary Olney has demanded in Havana and in Madrid a full explanation of the death of Dr. Ricardo Ruiz, who was secretly arrested on a charge of comploting in leading a revolution against Spanish troops.

Ruiz was said to have been a naturalized American citizen. He died in jail under suspicious circumstances. Other prisoners said he was murdered, but the Spanish authorities insist that he committed suicide.

It is said at the State Department that Ruiz's naturalization was not wholly incontestable; that his naturalization papers, as a matter of fact, have not yet been found.

The doctor declares that the prime cause of the numerous cases of typhoid fever which have been prevalent of late is the use of unwholesome milk and meat. Much of the milk has been diluted with impure water and the meat has come from cattle afflicted with tuberculosis.

CURED OF PARALYSIS.

A MEMBER OF THE BOARD OF TRADE IS ABOUT ONCE MORE.

His Familiar Face Has Been Missed Some Time on Account of Severe Illness.

From the News, Indianapolis, Ind.

Carlos F. Shepard is a well-known grain dealer, of Indianapolis, Ind. He is a man of position and a force of character that wins admiration and friends. He is a member of the Indianapolis Board of Trade. When it was recently announced to the Board that he suffered a stroke of paralysis, it seems to all his friends almost impossible that this rugged old man, always so handsomely hearty and cheerful, always a picture of health for "his cheeks were like the rose in the snow," could have been so suddenly laid low. But it was true and many weeks passed before his well-known form and kindly face returned to his former business haunts. His reappearance was made the occasion of a hearty welcome and the story of his illness and recovery is well worth the telling.

"I am 58 years old, and for forty years up to the time of this attack, I had not had a day's sickness. The doctors who diagnosed my case saw at once that it was something serious. They at first said that it was lumbago, then sciatic rheumatism. They finally came to the conclusion they did not know what was the matter with me. I experienced no pain, my head was clear, my appetite good, but I lost the use of myself from my hips down. This was a hard stroke to an active man who has always had an easy going pair of legs. My brother-in-law, who is a physician, came from a neighboring city to see me. He pronounced my affliction to be a locomotor ataxia. I am of the opinion that he diagnosed my case correctly, for I was absolutely paralyzed from the hips down.

"Before he came, however, a day or so before, I had begun taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. That was on the 20th day of last October. Before I began taking them I could not stir a peg, but had to be carried from place to place. I had not gone far into the first box when I felt that deliverance from my enforced inaction had come. Before I finished the second box I was able to walk alone with the aid of a cane. About home I do not use a cane now, but when I come out on the slippery pavements I feel that I need a little support to make my footing sure. The doctors said I could not walk again but here I am, and I think the credit must be given to the pills. It is said the pills are stimulating, but I cannot say that they give me any sensations that I am aware of. They merely cure and that is quite enough for me."

Carlos F. Shepard has been a resident of Indianapolis for over twenty years. He lives at 720 East Ohio Street. He has always been an active, enterprising man and his many friends will rejoice that he has literally been put upon his feet again. He is not only well known locally, but to grain shippers all over Indiana and Illinois.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, palpitation of the heart, and all forms of weakness, either in male or female.

There was an enjoyable concert by the students at Kamehameha School, assisted by Professor Berger and Chas. Kreuter last night. The entertainment was given in the Bernice Bishop Hall and was well attended. There were solos, duets and choruses and several musical numbers. The affair was a great artistic success.

On the morning of Feb. 20, 1895, I was sick with rheumatism, and lay in bed until May 21st, when I got a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. The first application of it relieved me almost entirely from the pain, and the second afforded complete relief. In a short time I was able to be up and about again.—A. T. Moreaux, Luverne, Minn. LESS PESSIMISM—MORE PROGRESS.

Onida the novelist, who has lately taken to writing on social questions, has penned a letter to Secretary Olney in which she protests against the clause in the immigration bill which requires those coming to the United States to be able to read. She says that to bar the illiterate Italians will be to keep out the better classes and let in street gamins and others who have been "corrupted by the trumpery education of the schools." She cites an instance within her own experience of a servant, who could neither read nor write but was the pink of perfect honesty and loyalty to his employer. She would not trust an educated man.

This argument is something on the plan of the old farmer's idea who didn't want his boy "educated" because he would then be able to read dime novels. Onida would evidently accept the logical fallacy: a hen is a biped; a man is a biped, therefore a man is a hen. We would naturally suppose that a woman of Onida's fame would not speak of the corruption of trumpery education, yet we find the same inconsistencies which she presents cropping out among all classes and conditions of men. Even within our own borders in the discussion relating to the importation of more intelligent labor to gather our staple product, we find nine out of ten remarking that a trial has once been made and it was a failure, therefore all trials will be failures. If this pessimistic view of our industrial experiments is to obtain now and henceforth the time will soon come when the average white man will consider an attempt to exist in this country, a failure.

The influence of the men who meet every new departure with the assertion that "it can't be done in this country" is already coming into bold relief in its effect upon the country both at home and abroad. A temporary loss of a few dollars has blinded the eyes of the majority to the rocks toward which they have been steering; education as to the true trend of affairs has been placed at a discount. It is never too late to mend, however, and we may inaugurate a policy in relation to our own immigration which will save the nation from the wrath to come. It is about time the "can't-be-done" individual ceased to receive so much attention and more of the spirit of distinctly American progress put in the spring of our national boot heel.

PLATT AND CHOATE.

The election, by the Legislature of New York State, of Mr. Platt to the Senate of the United States, instead of Mr. Choate, attracts much attention in that country, because it is a most emphatic illustration of the power of the "boss" in politics.

We have said, that Mr. Platt did the work and got the office, and Mr. Choate did not do the work, and therefore did not get the office. Our position may be understood. Many people take it for granted that human nature is eliminated from political methods. Many good men here, once recommended an incompetent man for office, because they were his friends, and they wanted to help him. The same men would howl with indignation if an incompetent stranger applied for an office.

The theory of putting the "best man" in office is ignored, practically, by all men. Work and reward go together in this world. The soldier who does the fighting gets the rank. It is not given to some one who would be a great soldier, if he had the chance. The seamp who explores Africa or the North Pole, and risks his life, gets the honors, instead of the eminent scientist who stays at home. Interior and even wicked men, who accomplish something, in all branches of human life, are usually preferred to those who are eminent but do nothing.

There is a large missionary field in politics. "The heathen" are there in vast numbers. They must be educated. It takes time. Mr. Platt takes the time and Mr. Choate does not. Mr. Choate has a theory that on election day, the heathen, under sudden inspiration, will turn a somersault from wickedness into goodness, and line up with the elect, and vote for the "best man." Mr. Platt has a theory that long, continuous, patient work must be done, and that men must be educated in political matters, just as they are educated in the trades and the professions. He becomes the teacher, and then the leader, and is finally elected over the head of the eminent Choate.

When men like Choate will do missionary work too, and live with the political "heathen," they will have some influence in filling offices. Of course, there are exceptions to this general rule. Mr. Platt is a "boss." But while Mr. Choate was at home, taking large fees, Mr. Platt, in St. Louis, shook his fist at the weak-kneed Republicans, and drove them upon the gold platform. The bankers and merchants of the Empire State prefer the wicked man who has done splendid work, to an eminent man, who can do good work, but is too busy to spend his time at it. There is much human nature lying around us.

THE JUBILEE

In selecting the best method of commemorating Queen Victoria's Jubilee, Truth (London) says, there is much difference of opinion about it, but that it is quite evident that each person, in Great Britain, feels that the best commemoration would be, to relieve himself of all of his personal grievances.

Tolstoi said: "The wolf looks at the world and thinks, what is all this for but to give me food?" The Englishman says, what is the use of a Jubilee, unless I am pulled out of some trouble? If a man is unhappily married, let the Queen send him a divorce. If he has lost money, let the Queen, or somebody else fill his pockets. If he has a personal enemy, let the Queen "kin" him. In other words, let the Jubilee become a personal millennium, in which forty millions of people will, individually, be relieved of their heavy burdens.

No doubt, the gracious Queen would do it, if she could. But she too, has her own heavy burdens, of suffering, disappointment and bereavement, which will not vanish at the touch of the Jubilee wand. To her the words apply, which the eloquent Robert Hall used at the death of the young and exalted Princess Charlotte, "She too belongs to that vast throng, which moves slowly towards the tomb, in which all are distinguished from each other only by their different degrees of wretchedness."

FEMALE SCHOLARS.

The annual report of Radcliffe College, Harvard Annex, shows that women are rapidly becoming serious competitors with men in historical and scientific research.

Miss Irwin, a sister of R. W. Irwin, our Minister in Japan, is the Dean of the faculty, and is an uncommonly able woman, as she should be, for she is the great-grand-daughter of Benjamin Franklin.

The fact that women are taking away from men many of the scholarship prizes creates much distress in the souls of the "pec-wits," the little men who run up and down the world trembling with anxiety at the dangerous advancement of women. These men fear petticoat brains, and like to see women chained to the stove, like mangle keys to an organ. If the average citizen has the say of it, women would not be allowed to forge ahead. But the highest schools are gradually coming under the influence of liberal men and women, who are exploding the barricades thrown across the pathway of woman's progress.

Some of our own brave women asked the framers of the Constitution to grant them political rights. It was deemed inexpedient by men who represented only the average intelligence. But all goes well. The evolution of woman is inevitable. There is no patent medicine in the market which will heal the sores of those who have bruised their heels against woman's progress.

HAWAII'S OPPORTUNITIES.

An American correspondent writing to this paper, says that he is a born Yankee, with a wife and small family, and was in hopes that he might make his home in Hilo or on one of the coffee plantations nearby. After reading what literature he could obtain on the condition of affairs here, he has decided that he cannot "see his way clear," that as near as he can make out, there are three classes here: "Rich, professional and a herd of people, especially Japs," and "if a good thing appears the rich will soon have it all in their power." In qualifying the last statement, our correspondent remarks that the same spirit is shown in the United States.

This gentleman is probably one who has read stories of Hawaii, to the effect that all a man has to do to make a living in this country is to plant a banana tree and exist. After reading up a little more he has come to the conclusion that men have to hustle for a living in Hawaii something as they do in other portions of the globe. In this he is not far from right. There is no royal road to wealth in Hawaii, and any one who anticipates such a condition had better stay away. We do take exception, however, to the statement that Hawaii's population is made up solely of the rich, the professional man and a "herd of Japs," and that there is "no show" for the Yankee.

We are ready to admit that no man can go about any portion of this place blindfolded and pick up dollars in the streets, but we can also say that no country offers a better opportunity, and final reward, for honest, earnest and constant labor. Especially is this true in the coffee industry. The pretty homes and coffee areas of Oahu are an evidence of this. Nor do we consider that a man must have the big bank account suggested in the estimate given in the book recently published by the Foreign Office before he can think of making a home in the coffee districts. Whether the rich man gets full control of the coffee business depends entirely upon the activity of the man of moderate means. If our Yankee friend will do his own work and give the same close attention to the development of his land that he does in his native heath he will in the end be entirely independent and make more than "a living." On the other hand if he starts in with a grand flourish, borrows money, sits around while Japs do the work, he will suffer the usual fate of the man afraid to work and quick to borrow. There is yet coffee land to spare on these Islands that can be purchased at reasonable prices, and the man who takes up the land and cultivates it intelligently will find that the rich will not trouble him, the professional men will do him no harm, and the "herd" is not of such size or character as to injure his prospects of success.

THE SECULAR AND RELIGIOUS PRESS.

The religious press, which is very sensitive in controversy, often charges the secular press with hostility to religion. It says to the secular press: "We are theologians and will supervise man's relations to God; you may supervise his relations to worldly affairs." But the secular press should be, also, the religious press, if the word "religion" is taken in its broadest meaning. So long as the religious press insists on being the wiser teacher, the secular press has the right to challenge its methods and ask it questions, even if they are uncomfortable ones.

Mr. Moody, the greatest revivalist of modern times, and other revivalists, have organized revival meetings in Boston. The liberal pastors, of course, criticize their ways. But Zion's Herald, a Methodist organ, strikes at these evangelists. It says: "Evangelist Sam. Jones pours himself out in contemptuous speech, severe sarcasm and vulgar wit, in condemnation of the Christian churches. We regret to see Mr. Moody is also deeply tinged with pessimism concerning ministers and churches; we have noted with deep regret a gradual transformation in him."

The New York Observer now attacks Dr. Lyman Abbott, the successor of the greatest preacher America has produced, and accuses him of making the Bible "hardly more than Homer, something better than Shakespeare, inspired about as Milton."

This cross firing, these fist-cuff affairs among the religious leaders of the world have a ridiculous side, but the secular press, representing earnest, thoughtful, truth-seeking men and women, who realize that life in this world, is only a bridge between the two eternities, has the right to ask: "Will you never stop quarreling? What is the reason that 1900 years after the passion and agony, you have found no common pathway? One denomination constructs a track towards salvation, and the other denominations pull up the rails and side-track the cars, filled with anxious passengers. You quarrel even over parallel tracks."

When the secular press earnestly asks these questions, the religious press generally loses its temper and predicts an eternity of hot gridiron for the inquirer. When Mr. Moody, the greatest of modern revivalists, whose converts number legions, says that "if Christ were now to appear on earth, he would be the most unwelcome visitor here," the secular press has a right to ask about it, and not be told, as if it were a child: "Stop asking questions or you will be put to bed."

In every community there are pastors and men and women with "welkin wide of soul." These hate the miserable disputes of sensitive, excited religious leaders, who talk as if it were a lie that God "stands behind the shadows keeping watch above his own."

The secular press, speaking for all earnest souls, demands that the religious press give up bickering and work for that celestial harmony which ought to exist everywhere.

KE ALOHA AINA LIES.

The Ke Aloha Aina, (native) in its issue of March 6th has a large amount of very serious matter on "the assassination of Liliuokalani."

It is a pity that the Ke Aloha Aina takes the natives for fools, and feeds them with such stuff. It would be just as reasonable for it to say that Liliuokalani was in Washington for the purpose of assassinating President McKinley, if he signed an annexation treaty, or that Capt. Palmer had taken possession of Washington, and put himself in the Presidential chair. Every hour, the natives suffer from the idiotic stupidity of men, who claim to be their friends, but invariably betray them. If the natives had followed the advice of their true friends, during the last fifteen years, their political supremacy here would have been protected by the wealth, the intelligence, and the bayonets of the "Missionary" party. Persons who conduct the Ke Aloha Aina, making fools of them then and are making fools of them now.

ROYALISTIC BABBLE.

One of the latest schemes used by one of the native papers to prejudice the native mind against the Republic and against annexation is contained in the statement that the Reciprocity Treaty will be lost unless the monarchy is restored. This is another good example of the miserable political food with which some of our native Hawaiian citizens are being fed. The average citizen very well knows that nothing could disgrace this country in the eyes of American citizens and American statesmen more than a return to monarchical rule. And the average citizen also knows that monarchy in the Hawaiian Islands is deadlier than the deadliest Indian whose corpse ever graced a North American plain.

If it were a fact that the form of government here cut any figure with the United States in respect to the Reciprocity Treaty, the demand would be, that the treaty should be co-existent with a republican form of government. Nine people out of every ten in the United States have a healthy hatred for any form of government that savors of monarchy; every sentiment, every tradition of the nation is against it and so completely has this feeling become instilled in the American heart that we may well say that even conservative citizens of the United States are strongly prejudiced against any form of government that savors of monarchy. The public laughing stock of Washingtonians and the American people generally, simply because it has been stated that she seeks restoration to a throne in what is practically an American Colony—the Hawaiian Islands. Should monarchy be restored, Hawaii and the native Hawaiians would occupy the same position as the ex-queen—a public laughing stock—and the general tendency of sentiment would be to withdraw whatever assistance has been given us to build up a progressive and enlightened colony.

The native Hawaiian who stops to consider the question can see very clearly that the men who have many times led them to destruction are seeking to lead them and the nation to still lower depths by publishing the most bare faced lies concerning the character and sentiment of the United States and the republican institutions which American citizens love and will fight to uphold.

The Petaluma Daily Courier can see nothing good in the proposed annexation of the Hawaiian Islands to the United States and considers that we have no right to request Uncle Sam to reach out a protecting arm. Furthermore, the Petaluma Daily Courier says that the United States "is already too large for good government." It says for this year there has been "little law for the interests of the people," the "Congressmen are like so many moles," the "features of true democracy are fast disappearing." Finally, "it would be better for us were we able to get rid of our territory, instead of annexing more." From the general tone of the Petaluma Courier's heavy arguments, it is safe to conclude that the editor lies awake nights hating himself and his fellowmen in general. We quite understand that the man who has no use for his own country can see nothing good in any other nation. The only sensible answer that can be made to his anti-annexation argument is to suggest a shower bath to clear the editorial head and prescribe Pepper's pink pills for his dyspeptic stomach.

Sentence Suspended.

In the Police Court yesterday afternoon the case of Lionel V. Redpath for larceny in the second degree, came up for trial before Judge De La Vergne. On the part of the prosecution, Marshal Brown asked that sentence be suspended until moved on by the prosecution, with the understanding that defendant leave the country within a reasonable time after the expiration of his sentence in May.

Meeting of the League Held Yesterday Noon.

MAUI'S PROPOSITION IS REJECTED

Series of Twenty-One Games Decided on.

Officers Elected To Serve During Ensuing Year—Clubs All to Get Down to Work.

A meeting of the delegates to the Hawaiian Baseball League was held in Bishop's Bank yesterday. Col. J. H. Fisher acted as chairman, in the absence of H. M. Whitney, Jr. The following delegates were present: J. O. Carter, Jr., Harry Whider and Tom Price, of the Stars; A. H. Moore, J. F. O'Connor and Captain Coyne of the First Regiments; James A. Thompson and Pat Gleason of the St. Louis Club. J. O. Carter, Jr., was elected secretary pro tem. The minutes of the last meeting were read and accepted.

James A. Thompson made an application for the admission of the St. Louis team into the league. Granted. The following proposition of the Maui Baseball team was read by J. O. Carter, Jr.:

"KAHULUI, Maui, Jan. 25, 1897. "Mr. J. O. Carter, Manager Star Baseball Club:

"Dear Sir:—In behalf of the Maui ball players, and as a representative of my team, we put before you and the Honolulu Baseball League a proposition for consideration, as found below: "That after a most successful meeting, we finally came to the following conclusions:

"That we should form an organization on Maui, consisting of Joe Ross and Akina, as well as other Mauiites, as, Charles Chillingworth, Kauka, etc., and ask permission to enter in the league as a Maui team to represent that island in the great race for baseball honors.

"Below will be found the following conclusions arrived at:

"1. That an organization of a Maui team take place to enter the Honolulu Baseball League.

"2. That the players consist of the old players of the Walluku Baseball team and several outsiders, to complete the 10.

"3. That we will only join the league on one condition, and this is, reasonable terms, as:

"We ask for one-half of the gate receipts to pay our expenses with.

"4. That we are willing to have the schedule arranged in this manner: That the teams of Honolulu play a game each among themselves, then we will go down and remain three Saturdays and play a game each with the three teams.

"5. That all the games be played in Honolulu, in the league grounds.

"Respectfully yours,

"HARRY C. MOSSMAN,

"Acting for Maui."

On motion of J. A. Thompson the application was rejected.

The following were elected officers of the league, to serve during the ensuing year:

President—H. M. Whitney, Jr.

Vice President—Arthur Coyne.

Secretary and Treasurer—W. C. Wilder, Jr.

Mr. Whitney was elected official umpire for the season of 1897 and was given power to appoint his assistants. Mr. Whitney was also appointed a committee of one to confer with a committee from the association on the matter of gate receipts.

A season of 21 games was agreed on, the first to be played on April 24th between the Stars and First Regiments, and the second on May 1st, between the First Regiments and St. Louis team. The remainder of the schedule will be arranged later by the captains of the three teams.

The baseball rules for 1886 were adopted. The league will be comprised of only the three teams mentioned in this article.

Fifteen men will be allowed in each team. If a new man comes in when that limit has been reached, it will have to be at the sacrifice of an old one. The teams will all begin work right away.

The Regiments are not certain as to all the men of their team. G. A. Bower, A. C. Davis and J. F. O'Connor are practicing for the place of pitcher. F. M. Kelley will probably catch, with J. B. Gorman, third base, as a substitute catcher.

There seems to be general satisfaction among the baseball men that at last some definite action has been taken.

STORM AT SEA.

The Chas. F. Crocker Puts Into Auckland in Distress.

As a result of the fierceness of the heavy gale which raged along the New Zealand coasts the week before last, a large American four-masted schooner, a type of vessel which is rarely seen in New Zealand waters, made her appearance in port on February 9th in a leaking condition. A representative on board the vessel was courteously received by Captain Piltz, who stated that she was the American four-masted schooner Charles F. Crocker, bound from Newcastle to Honolulu, with a cargo of coal, consigned to Messrs. J.

D. Spreckels Bros & Co., and had put into port leaking, having met with the recent gale off the Bay of Plenty.

At noon of January 29th the spanker was reefed, the wind still increasing, and at 3 p. m. the upper topsail was double-reefed, and a reef put in the main and mizzen sails, and the staysail and the jib furlled. At 11 p. m. it was blowing very hard. An attempt was then made to furl the topsail, but before this could be done it was blown away. The barometer then stood at 29.8, and steadily falling. The lower topsail was then furlled, and while this work was being done the mainsail was carried away. The foretopmast staysail was blown clean out of the ropes. The barometer had then fallen to 29.6.

In an endeavor to save the mainsail Captain Piltz was dashed against the mainmast by a sea, and had his ankle considerably injured.

After an experience of many years at sea Captain Piltz says that he never saw such a fearful sea as was running during the time that the gale lasted, there being nothing but a white seething foam as far as could be seen from the deck of the vessel.

The Charles F. Crocker was built at Oakland, Cal., in 1890, and is owned by Mr. M. Olsen and others, of San Francisco. She is 885 tons register, and has on board 1,292 tons coal.

Immediately after his arrival Captain Piltz came on shore and dispatched a cable to his owners, acquainting them of the casualty.—Auckland (N. Z.) Herald.

GROWING COTTON

Commissioner Marsden to Experiment.

Possibly Another Industry will be Built Up—Trade With Japan.

The launching near Pearl City of a cotton-growing experiment, to be carried out on the most approved lines of the Southern States, has revived interest in the subject, one which was given considerable attention in the Islands soon after the American war. It has been found that the finest species of cotton are grown in many flower yards of Honolulu and in the outlying districts. Mr. Tracy has a tree of Sea Island cotton, of fine fiber and superb staple. The tree is several years old and bears continuously. Dr. Emerson has a small tree of herbaceous cotton, the white short-staple product of the South. At Montano's place in Manoa is a tree of Sea Island cotton, which, however, on account of age, perhaps, produces an inferior fiber. This tree has been grown without irrigation. Besides these, many other splendid specimens are now being cultivated in and near the city.

With the quickened interest in the promising industry, there has been a call from all sides at the office of the Commissioner of Agriculture for seed. One of the two bags of fine Sea Island seed, imported from the South by the Pearl City experimenter, and left with the Commissioner, has been distributed and the last one will be opened today. The seed will be given to any one wishing to make bona-fide experiments. Instructions as to cultivation will also be furnished.

Mr. Marsden has become a bit enthusiastic on the subject, and will plant an experiment on a piece of Government land back of Punchbowl. In all probability he will "put in" about two acres. The experiment will be made to establish the distance required by plants, the possibility for successful pruning and the adaptability of the valleys to the product.

The seed now at hand produces the finest cotton known to commerce. It is a glossy, silky fiber with the largest staple grown. On the market it commands twice that of the white, upland species of the United States. From the time of planting to harvest is not more than four months, and it is believed four full crops can be produced in 12 months. If experiments now underway prove what are believed to be facts, the same trees may be utilized continuously for an indefinite number of years. It is believed that the yield here must be three to four times as great as on the islands off the coast of Georgia, and the expense of cultivation much less than there.

Nearly all the machinery for placing cotton on the market is at hand. Mr. A. F. Cooke has, at Iwilei, a roller linter, of considerable capacity, for separating the seed from the lint. The balling press is a simple contrivance, and can be manufactured here. As for a market, Honolulu is in the path of an important traffic in the raw product between Texas and the mills of Japan.

DEXTER A WINNER

Surprises the New Zealanders and Lowers Record.

ODDS AGAINST HIM ON TRIAL

Made Mile in 2.19 on Grass Track Without Bank.

Sent To Wellington To Race With Crackerjacks—Business Good With Team.

The colors of the H. A. A. C., Myrtle Boat Club and Rambler racing team of Honolulu are pretty well at the top in far-off New Zealand.

Ruby Dexter, trained and coached by his old and present partner, Dave Crozier, is riding with the very best bicycle speed merchants of mule land. The Honolulu boy is holding his own splendidly. Latest reports by letter and in the papers are to the effect that money and honors galore are falling to Ruby. He prepares as carefully as ever, is much stronger than when here, has the same nerve and tenacity, and has learned all the tricks of the track trade that have been developed by the sport-loving New Zealanders.

Dexter, with his mate, Champion "Teddy" Reynolds, has taken part in the championship meet at Wellington. Results of that tourney are not yet known, but it is certain that if Dexter held his latest form shown, he figured with the firsts in several events.

The Honolulu boy had to break a record at Auckland to have his club send him to Wellington. Reynolds had already been selected as the representative, but he wanted Dexter to go along. The club Executive Committee agreed that if Ruby made the mile on the four-lap grass track (no banking) in 2:25, he should accompany Reynolds. Even bets were made that he would not do it in 2:27.

It was a standing start, and the first quarter was rather slow. Then Ruby put on steam and kept letting out the links till he made the last round at hurricane rate, finishing in 2:19, beating the previous record by 4:3-5 seconds. Only two men had beaten 2:30 on the track before. This performance gives Dexter the New Zealand championship standing. He was champion of the Hawaiian Islands when he left here. Two tandems, Crozier on one, paced the 2:19 mile.

Reynolds, who has been at the top of the heap down there three years, observed what Dexter could do at the Hamilton meeting, early last month. They were in three races together, and these were the first occasions in which Reynolds was challenged at the tape. One account says:

"Dexter was second, Champion Reynolds winning, in three races. The first was a two-mile handicap (300-yard limit). Dexter had 60 yards, and was but a yard behind down the home stretch and at the end. In the three-mile handicap there were a number of tumbles and Dexter might have had first, instead of second, had he not been blocked. Then in the five-mile handicap (700-yard limit), Dexter was put at the 150 mark. The race was between the new man and Reynolds, and they fought it out like demons down the last straight. Dexter was but six inches behind. He is considered by all the coming man."

In a two-mile race at another place, Dexter had a fall on the last lap, and then finished third.

The New Zealanders are keen for any sort of spicy pastime, and the Honolulu boys wrote of going on a steam-excursion. Each passenger was supplied with a fishing line. A sixpence "sweep" was made up, and Dexter hauled down 15 shillings by hauling up the second fish caught.

The Honolulu boys are doing well in their business at Auckland.

WHEELS ON SHOW.

Exhibit at Independence Park Pavilion on Saturday Night.

The Independence Park pavilion bicycle show of Saturday night, although not as well patronized as it might have been, was a success. The enterprise shown in getting up the exhibition and putting before the public the very latest things in the bicycle line, deserves great credit. The hall was nicely decorated for the occasion, and at the Ewa end was stationed an orchestra from the Hawaiian Band, which furnished music for the dancing.

E. O. Hall & Son's exhibit to the left of the entrance was the largest of the four. Every part of a bicycle, from a screw up, was presented to the view of the public. The Ramblers, Columbias, Stearns and other wheels were placed about in various places most handy for inspection, and many were the favorable remarks made about the three favorite wheels. Mr. Edwin Paris was in charge.

The Cleveland booth, to the right, was perhaps the prettiest one in the room. A wheel run by electricity, and a '97 Cleveland racer, together with a wheel suspended above, and decorated with red and blue electric lights by E. F. Dreier, were the principal attractions. Harry Walker did the talking.

The Sterling booth, in charge of Frank Atherton, was a very attractive one. Nearly a dozen of the '97 models of various wheels were on show. Among these was a Sterling with an 84 gear.

Harry Wooten's booth, opposite the one devoted to the Cleveland wheels,

CORBETT AND HIS TALL TRAINER.

Champion Corbett's new trainer, William Rollins, of Akron, Ohio, is 7 feet 3 inches tall. Corbett is over 6 feet in height, but he looks small beside Rollins. The young giant boxes and wrestles with Corbett.

was, perhaps, the one of greatest interest. A wheel manufactured by Mr. Wooten himself was the main feature of the exhibit. In the back was the hind wheel of the old-time bicycles, attached to the rim of which were a dozen or more Banner lamps fixed on pivots. The revolving of the wheel made a very pretty effect.

People came and went from 7 until 11 o'clock, and probably there were more present than it was supposed. The show will be open again during the same hours tonight.

Band of Gypsies Driven From California.

Made Trouble For Settlers—Good Looking Girls Won Hearts of Beaux.

Oh, who would not dwell in Bohemia, the real Bohemia! But there are difficulties in Bohemia just as there are in the prosaic life of the man of business.

Women have caused trouble for the Bohemians, and this time it is the women of Sausalito who have declared that the gypsies must go, the gypsies that have camped on the hillsides of Marin and told fortune after fortune. The women have applied to Sheriff Harrison to remove the camp. What would the Princess Chimay say to this? Oh, shadows of Rigo!

Several weeks ago Sausalito was a happy settlement. Now all is turmoil. Man's inhumanity to man does not figure in the case, but woman's unkindness to her kind does, so the dark people say.

Bohemia located on the green sward. The dark people told fortunes and incidentally tried to make a choice selection of barn-yard fowls.

The children of the white people played in the door-yards, and on the threshold; the dark people gazed at them and the white women said beware of the lass with the dark, rolling eye; remember the lost Charlie Ross.

Then there was trouble in Bohemia; more trouble than false prophecies cause; more trouble than a town constable can create with a search warrant. The men of the white tribe looked favorably upon the eyes that are brown and the nose that is red and the teeth that are white and put in all their spare time looking into the future with the aid of gypsy mediums. The white women grew angry and applied to Sheriff Harrison for relief, and the Sheriff charged the camp of the chosen people by night and told them to vacate the country.

"I'll give you until next Saturday to clear out," said Harrison.

"Well," said the leader, thoughtfully, "we will go in the steerage by the next steamer for Honolulu."

And it has come to pass that the white women have triumphed over the dark women and the dark men, and when the Mariposa sails for Hawaii she will carry with her the entire band that has harassed Marin for many moons and made frequent raids on classic Belvedere and exclusive San Rafael.

Said the leader this morning: "The Sausalito ladies are very unkind. They did not like our women, they did not like our children; they asked the officers to make us leave. We will go to Honolulu and tell fortunes and dance and earn dollars."

Sheriff Harrison said that the band that has been making Sausalito its headquarters this winter are a low set, and gave so much trouble that a committee of women waited upon him with a request to eject the wanderers, as they pilfered whenever they got a chance and made night hideous across the bay.

CO. D HIGH JINKS.

Lots of Fun and Frolic in Drill Shed.

A short business meeting of Company D, N. G. H., was held in the Drill Shed last evening. Louis Reynolds was elected a member, and the name of George Clarke was posted for one week. The Finance Committee's report on the treasurer's report was read and accepted.

After the meeting came the high jinks, when all the boys joined in a jolly good time.

Ex-Lieutenant Love of the New York militia was present, and on being called upon for a speech, replied that he had nothing much further to say than that he was a crank on recruits. He said that he had a real interest in the company, being, as he was, friends with Captain McCarthy. After this he made an offer to the effect that he would give a gold company badge to the member bringing in the most applications for membership during the next 30 days.

Captain McCarthy took advantage of the suggestion at once, and offered to give a gold company badge to the members bringing in the most recruits during each successive month for the next year.

AT ARION HALL.

Concert By Pupils of Kalihi-Waena School Children.

The pupils of Kalihi-Waena school gave a concert at Arion Hall that was a pronounced financial and artistic success. There were songs and recitations by the pupils and instrumental numbers by volunteers. Miss Cordelia Clymer rendered a pianoforte solo in her usual artistic manner and Miss Margaret Elmore Sturgeon played a selection on the violin. A solo on the violin by Prof. Yarnley accompanied by Miss Clymer was something that will long be remembered by the audience.

The professor was never in better form and his number was liberally applauded. A recitation by Benjamin Pulua was very well done and closed the first part of the performance. The entertainment closed by a cantata entitled "A wreath of Love" by the pupils and was very satisfactory.

The voices of the children show the result of training and their deportment excellent. Prof. Edwards is to be congratulated on the excellent results attained. The proceeds were more than sufficient for the purchase of the organ.

ANNEXATION AT PEARL CITY.

Citizens Met Last Night and Formed a Club.

Some 30 citizens of Pearl City met in the Court House that place last night for the purpose of forming an annexation club. Judge Hookano, as chairman; R. W. Filler, as secretary, and M. G. Correa, as treasurer, were elected temporarily. Another meeting will be held next week for the election of permanent officers.

Speeches on annexation were made, and enthusiasm reached its highest pitch.

A committee, consisting of Judge Hookano, George McCarthy and R. W. Filler, was appointed to see that the citizens of Pearl City become fully acquainted with the movement. Posters will be put all over the district.

WAIANAE TROUBLES.

Laborers Still on Strike—Differences May be Settled Today.

The situation at Waianae had not materially changed last night, though the indications were, in Manager Center's opinion, favorable to a complete settlement today. The entire force of Japanese on the plantation refused duty after the two men were arrested on Thursday, and remained at their quarters all day yesterday. The two men were confined in jail.

If the laborers carry out their threats they will remain on strike until the matter is adjudicated. Mr. Center is confident it will be settled and work resumed today.

ANCIENT EGYPTIAN FLOWERS.

The National Museum of Egyptian Antiquities at Bulak has one department devoted to specimens of plants, which have been found in the sepulchral monuments of that country. It is said that every plant found has still its counterpart growing along the Nile. The very flowers which the boy Moses or the children of Joseph picked still bloom, unchanged even in color. There are still to be seen here blue sprays of larkspur which loving hands laid upon the bodies of those who died a thousand years before Abraham and Sarah went down into Egypt.

While I would emphasize above all the utterances of all earthly ages, the utterances of the Great Healer, I may not here be out of place to refer to the many and inspiring maxims which the leader of Chinese thought, Confucius, has left as a legacy to his countrymen of succeeding generations. Here is one, which might not unfittingly be carved over the entrance portal of this building. In the "Confucian Analects" it is stated that Fan Ch'ie asked about benevolence. The master said: "If you love all men" May this spirit ever dwell within these walls!

You appreciate, I feel sure, the fact also that our mercantile class and those who are and have been for some years engaged in developing the fertile and valuable resources of this fortune-favored country, have invariably been found honorable, honest and law-abiding residents in your midst. AN ARCTIC WINTER

Little Lucy McGuire Tells of Experience on Whaler.

THREE YEARS IN LAND OF AURORA

Dressed Like an Esquimau.

Among the passengers on the Australia last week was Lucy McGuire, daughter of Tom McGuire, the expressman, whose stand is on King street. And Lucy has a little history, even though she has just passed the first year of her teens. The little one has just returned to her island home after skis for matches and tobacco. "What did I wear in the winter? Why, heavy flannels or woollens, and my ordinary clothes. Outside of all a deerskin coat to my feet. It was lined with flannel, and I wore a hood lined with flannel and trimmed with wol- verine. Then I wore Esquimaux boots and deerskin mittens over woolen stockings and gloves. That was in winter. In the summer I wore a short deerskin coat and a felt hat and wool- ens, trimmed with minx. Hereschel Island is covered with all kinds of flow- ers—forget-me-nots, poppies and other kinds—and Mr. Warren, one of the men who was killed by a whale, used to take me and Dorothy up the hills to gather the flowers. We had plenty of company at Hereschel, because there were 15 whale ships there, and the captains used to get up entertainments, and we would have lots of fun."

Lucy declares she would not go whal- ing again, even though she had a big lay. She is going to stay in Honolulu, where deerskin garments are neither fashionable or comfortable, and where she can get an education.

THE PACIFIC CABLE

When, however, we come to the esti- mate of the gross receipts for tele- grams, this, we take it, would be far more difficult and uncertain. But what- ever the receipts might be at first they would surely grow steadily every year, and if a Government undertook the work, they could do so in the practical certainty that if unremunerative at the outset the line would soon pay a good profit on the working as the popu- lation of the Western States of the American Union and the Canadian Do- minion grew, and as trade in the Far East with those great countries—now in its infancy—developed. Of course, the line first laid will enjoy the best chance of proving a paying speculation. Communication with the Far East does not enter into the project now being discussed by the conference sitting in London, which is concerned only with communication between Canada and Australia, but if Hawaii were made a station on that line it would natu- rally be made the starting point for any line that may in the future be laid to connect with the Far East, and this latter line would then constitute a valuable feeder for the first. It appears to us, therefore, that a line from Van- couver to Honolulu, and thence in two sections, one to New Zealand and Aus- tralia, and the other to Japan and Hong Kong, would prove the most fea- sible and useful from a financial and commercial point of view. But let us have the cable and we shall not great- ly care from whence it starts on the American side or where it touches en route.

HORSES INJURED

Two Arrivals by the S. G. Wilder Fare Badly.

Badly Cramped in Their Stalls—One of Them Shot—Capt. McNeill Arrested.

The American barkentine S. G. Wilder, McNeill master, arrived in port Saturday morning with a cargo of gen- eral merchandise and five head of fine horses aboard, the latter being con- signed to James Macdonald. These were landed at Brewer's wharf.

Out of the injuries of two of the num- ber, sustained on the voyage from San Francisco, has grown a peck of trouble. The other three were in good condi- tion and were taken uptown by the owner, but in regard to the remaining two, it was found that they were so frightfully injured by contact with the sides of the stalls that it was found necessary for them to be removed to Dr. Shaw's place on King street. Here they were examined and their injuries found to be so bad that Humane Officer Helen Wilder was sent for. She arrived at Dr. Shaw's place about 1 o'clock, and after a brief examination, telephoned for Marshal Brown. He could not be found, and so Deputy Marshal Hitchcock was sent for. After a consultation the two officers went down town together and found Marshal Brown at the police station.

Together the three went to Dr. Shaw's and, returning to town, Marshal Brown sent an officer aboard the S. G. Wilder with a penal summons for Captain McNeill to appear in the Pol- ice Court before Judge De La Vergne this morning.

An examination of the stalls used in transporting the two injured horses from San Francisco to Honolulu was made by Miss Wilder. She told a re- porter for the Advertiser yesterday "that the stalls were much too small for the horses," and that the shameful injuries sustained by the two animals was due to no other cause than inade- quate space. It must have been a mat- ter of constant galling and irritation all the way down from San Francisco. "Why," asked Miss Wilder, "were the other horses not injured?" Simply because they were smaller and had ad- equate room in the stalls. When I called at Dr. Shaw's one horse was walking about the yard very slowly, and as if suffering from great pain. The other had been put into a sling and dosed up with morphine to keep away to some slight degree the awful suffering the poor beast must have ex- perience. This one was shot during the night. Someone ought to be pun- ished for this piece of cruelty to ani- mals, and I shall do all in my power to see that whoever is responsible is brought to justice. Abuse of a dumb creature is something that no one should stand."

Captain McNeill was seen Sunday afternoon, and in answer to a question regarding the injured horses, answered by showing the reporter his live-stock contract, a clause of which reads as fol- lows:

"The said animals are to be put aboard and taken off said vessel by the shipper and at his sole expense; and it is hereby understood and agreed that the said animals while on board the said vessel are at his sole risk; and the vessel or her owners are in no way li- able for any damage by accident that may happen to said animals, however caused."

Captain McNeill says that the ani- mals were suffering when put aboard his vessel, that no one was sent down to take care of them, that he had very rough weather coming down and that he gave the animals all the care he could.

Give The Court a Chance.

MR. EDITOR—In reference to the re- port of the complications which have arisen in regard to the landing of the Japanese immigrants now in quaran- tine, which appeared in your issue of today, and also reports of similar tenor appearing in afternoon papers, per- mit me to suggest that, as the case has been practically before the court since Saturday evening, it would be well to leave the trial and verdict to the prop- er tribunal. Newspaper trials are never satisfactory, and especially is this the case when the verdict is rendered before the evidence is adduced. This suggestion is also most respectfully recommended to the consideration of Minister Cooper and other officials who have ventured ex parte testimony to the newspapers. Yours respectfully, W. J. GALLAGHER.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Otis Spalding Falls Into a Boat and Injures Himself.

It has just come to light that Otis B. Spalding of Kauai had a very nar- row escape from death on his last trip to his home on the W. G. Hall during the morning of February 4th. The steamer had arrived at the landing place of his home during the early morning. Spalding got his traps ready, and went to the side of the vessel to get into the boat. Two passengers be- fore him jumped into the boat and were caught and kept from falling by the native sailors. No such good luck for Otis. He jumped and fell head- long in the boat, striking his forehead violently. In an insensible condition he lay in the boat, and grave fears were entertained as to his recovery.

Mr. Spalding was carried to Kealia, where during the whole of that day he remained in a dazed condition. He was no better on the next day, and for a week he suffered agonies. Slowly he began to get better under his phys- ician's care, and now he is almost well again. It was a case of concussion of the brain with Mr. Spalding.

Much Talk of Transferring New Zealand Terminals.

CITY OF WELLINGTON PROPOSED

Three Californians Wheel Up Kilauea.

Campaign Against Saloons Opened In Oakland By Many Ministers.

In an editorial published February 10, the New Zealand Herald discusses the question of shifting the Mail line of steamers from Auckland to Wellington, and sets forth the advantages derived from maintaining the present service. The editorial states that the question of the trans-Pacific mail service is being revived from different quarters, and there is considerable likelihood that ere long it will be in evidence as a disturbing factor in politics. It is a subject of interest to those who still hope to see an alternative service with Vancouver established by a subsidy from the Parliament of New Zealand, and it is becoming again a subject of discussion to some of our friends in the South, who are desirous of seeing the port of call from the San Francisco route shifted from Auckland. The service as hitherto conducted has generally fulfilled the conditions so well that an alteration in either of these directions cannot be maintained on the grounds of anything of the nature of inefficiency or failure. But Auckland, in common with a large part of the rest of the colony, has not favored a subsidy towards the establishment, encouragement and improvement of the new service, believing that the existing San Francisco service would be more beneficial and less costly to the colony.

The Herald says that judging from the conduct of the service in the past it has taken two days longer on the Wellington route than it has on the Auckland route, and that this should be considered one of the reasons why the present route to Auckland should be continued. The claim that Wellington is nearer Sydney should not be considered a reason for a change, as a wide detour must be made to approach Wellington.

The Herald continues: Indeed, it may with safety be said that the Australian authorities could never be induced to grant any financial assistance to a service making a wide detour from the direct line by which the mails should travel. It may be confidently anticipated that, should even the promoters of the alternative service by Vancouver elect to make Wellington the port of New Zealand call, this would not be regarded in New South Wales as meeting the conditions requisite on which the colony's subsidy of £10,000 a year is given to the Vancouver mail service. Geography appears to have definitely settled the question of the New Zealand port of call in any Australian trans-Pacific service, and the dictum is not to be reversed either by controversy or local claims.

HARDY WHEELMEN.

Tourist From California Climb Kilauea.

The Call of a recent date says that word has just been received in San Francisco of the adventures of three well-known young wheelmen of this City and Oakland who recently started on a tour of the world with their wheels and plenty of money to carry them through should their bikes not bring them funds to defray expenses. They are Harry R. Bostwick of the Bay City Wheelmen and Charles Bain started to give exhibitions whenever the opportunity offered.

The first two landed at Honolulu, where they astonished the natives by their rapid riding, and then they journeyed to the main island of Hawaii and performed the unprecedented feat of climbing to the crater of Kilauea on their steel steeds.

CAMPAIGN OPENED.

Saloons Attacked From Pulpits of Many Churches.

The Call, in its Oakland letter of Feb. 21, says: The campaign against the saloons was actively commenced from the pulpits of this city today. Being disappointed at having the Sunday-closing question eliminated from the ballot to be used next month the pastors and Christian Endeavorers have decided to secure a large vote as possible on the matter of absolute prohibition that will be voted upon.

Today Rev. Robert Whitaker of the Twenty-third avenue Baptist Church, Rev. Dr. Kummer of the First Methodist, Rev. Mr. Sutherland of the Tenth-avenue Baptist—all referred to the matter and urged an active campaign against the saloons, so that a vote would show the Council just how the public feeling stands.

Rev. Dr. Coyle of the First Presbyterian Church had announced that he would handle the matter at length, and his church was crowded this morning.

BUSINESS MEN LEAGUE.
Non-Partisan Body Seeks Memorial to Congress.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The National Business Men's League, composed of non-partisan business men throughout the United States, has submitted to the Ways and Means Committee through John W. Ila of the Chicago General Council a statement embodying their views on tariff legislation. Among other things they say: "The league being in favor of taking the tariff out of politics favors the establishment of a new department of the Government, to be designated as the Department of Commerce and Industry, and of a tariff bureau in that department, which, after the present revision, shall investigate and report on all complicated changes in the tariff before action by Congress; and we believe that this bureau should be composed of non-partisan experts of such character and reputation that their report on each schedule or subject investigated by them will be conclusive as to facts and influential in decision."

FIRST BATTALION

Wins Shooting Contest at Butts on Saturday.

Only Five Points Difference—Sam Johnson Makes Record Score. Return Match.

The great 30-man shoot between the First and Second Battalions, N. G. H., took place at the butts Saturday, and resulted in a victory for the First by five points. The day was all that could be desired, and the usual good feeling among the members prevailed.

The team of the First Battalion was commanded by Captain Coyne, and that of the Second by Lieutenant Ludwig. Notwithstanding the excellent day and the continued practice the men had, the scores were poor. Company B, for instance, which formerly shot up to 408, fell below the 400 line in this match. Sam Johnson, however, made the best score that has ever been shot in a match. He piled up 48 Creedmoor. Captain Wall has done better than this in practice, but never in a contest.

Three men made misses which are easily accounted for. Private Ewing fired at No. 6 target instead of No. 7. The misses against Privates Vida and Flasher were through split bullets.

There was a great deal of interest manifested in the shoot, and Major Jones claims that his men were laboring under peculiar disadvantages, which they can overcome in another match. With confidence in his heart, he has sent the following:

"Maj. George McLeod, Commanding First Battalion, National Guard Hawaii:

"Sir:—Today's match having been decided in favor of the First Battalion, allow me to congratulate you, and ask for a return match, to be held March 20, 1897.

"Yours, etc., J. W. JONES, "Major Second Battalion, N. G. H. "Honolulu, March 6, 1897."

There is no doubt the challenge will be accepted today.

AN ODD CYLINDRICAL STREET CAR.

A street car that is cylindrical in form and that may be turned into an open car at a moment's notice has recently been invented. The sides, with windows of curved glass, slide up under the roof, just as the curtain of the roll top desk disappears, and a running board drops down below the floor of the car.

KNIGHTS TO DANCE

Pythians of Maui to Celebrate on March 17th.

CHAPTER OF RUNAWAY MISHAPS

Lahaina Church Soon to Be Dedicated.

Wilder Steamship Company Makes Liberal Offer—Shipping Intelligence.

MAUI, March 6.—Elaborate preparations are being made for the coming ball of the Knights of Pythias, to take place during the evening of the 17th inst. in the Wailuku skating rink. No expense is to be spared for interior decorations, and musicians of well-known ability—clarinet, zither, violin, piano and several guitars—will furnish dance music. The committees in charge are as follows: Refreshments—Messrs. B. L. Meyer, A. Tams, G. Horner and J. Anderson. Music—T. F. Sanborn and J. Schumelster. Reception—W. H. Campbell, T. F. Sanborn, F. S. Armstrong, G. W. Scott, E. B. Carley and W. Martin. Floor—F. Meyers, D. Quill, E. B. Carley and M. G. McLane. Floor Manager—W. H. Campbell.

This will be the third grand entertainment in the history of the lodge, the two former parties having been unusually brilliant society events. It is stated that the new steamer Helene is to alternate with the Kinau in voyaging to and from Hilo. If true, Maui will have an extra mail every 10 days; that is all, three Honolulu mails weekly for the most of the time, with one less now and then. If the W. G. Hall would only alternate with the Mauna Loa on the Kona-Kau route, Maui's cup of bliss would be full.

J. R. Higby, formerly at Spreckelsville, is now at Kalaupapa. O. G. Gilhus, recently in charge, will soon take up a permanent residence on his flourishing coffee plantation in Kona. There was quite a chapter of accidents in Makawao last Saturday, February 27th. A horse, belonging to Mrs. Henry Robinson, took fright and ran away, throwing both the lady and little girl into the road, and hanging the brake upon the wire fence. The horse was found in the cane field below the Paia Foreign Church. No serious injuries. The same evening, while H. A. and B. D. Baldwin were driving to Kailua, the horse, Kalakau, took fright at something when near Punomale, whirled suddenly around and ran fiercely down the hills Hakuward. B. D. Baldwin was thrown out when the horse turned, but H. A. Baldwin held the lines for a mile or more, and was found later by his cousin lying insensible in the road. He was badly shaken up, and has been confined to the house during the week.

The dedication of the new Waihee Church of Lahaina will take place the 18th of April, and an island native Sunday School convention will convene in the church on the 20th of the same month. It is stated that the Wilder Steamship Company has generously offered to convey Wailuku, Makawao and Hana Sunday School members to and from free of charge. The above dates may be changed, owing to the Easter vacation of Government schools occurring between April 10th and 18th.

Thirty-five persons are awaiting telephones. There seems to be no limit to the demand for instruments. Including the 25 there are about 235 subscribers on the Maui Telephone Company's list. There are quite a number of changes being made at Spreckelsville. Mr. F. Meyers head luma has resigned recently. William Hay of Pua is soon to depart for Hawaii. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Astell have removed from Pua and will reside in Honolulu. Agents of Makawao and Akanaiahi and Kona T. Akuna of Hona promise-

A pretty lavender dinner to Miss McGrew, her bridesmaids and Dr. Cooper, was given by Mrs. Tenny at her home on the Plains, Thursday. The beauty of the table decorations and their daintiness of touch went far toward enhancing the enjoyment of a thoroughly enjoyable dinner. The center piece was a cut-glass vase of lavender orchids and maiden hair in a large true lovers knot of ribbon of an exact hue with the orchids. The ends of this knot ran out to the corners and hung gracefully over. At either end of the table were other and smaller vases of orchids. The two candelabras, with white and lavender shades, added another charm to the decorations. The dinner cards were tender true lovers' knots, bearing the names of the guests in silver letters. Over the entire table was a sprinkling of fronds of the maiden hair fern. The guests were: Miss McGrew, Miss Pauahi Judd, Miss Widdfield, Miss Spalding, Dr. C. B. Cooper, Mr. Porter Dillingham and Mr. George C. Potter.

FUNERAL OBSEQUIES.

Mrs. Hay Wodehouse Buried at Nuanu Cemetery.

The funeral of the late Mrs. J. H. Wodehouse took place Sunday afternoon from St. Andrew's Cathedral. Just as the funeral started from the residence on Kewalo street a very heavy shower of rain fell, but it cleared up by the time the service was over at the church. Never have more beautiful floral offerings been seen at a funeral in this city. The chancel of the church was completely filled with the loveliest of flowers made into all kinds of devices. The pulpit was completely buried in red carnations, while a large bunch of calla lilies hung from the lectern.

At the coffin resting on the floor was a pillow of yellow flowers. Near the lectern in a prominent position stood a broken column some six feet high of white carnations, while near by was a lovely bank of marguerites with the letter A. in red asters in the center. There were several hearts of marguerites, crosses in purple asters, leis of all kinds and numberless bouquets of the choicest flowers. A few minutes after three o'clock the mournful procession arrived at the Cathedral where was assembled a large congregation, the church being completely filled.

Among those occupying front seats were T. R. Walker, British Vice-Consul and Mrs. Walker, Senhor Canavarro, Portuguese Commissioner, Mons. Vizzavona, French Chancellor, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Schaefer, Mrs. Haalelele, C. A. Brown and wife, J. M. Dowsett and wife, F. W. Macfarlane and wife, M. and Mrs. E. D. Tenney, Mr. and Mrs. Lishman, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lucas, etc. The pupils of St. Andrew's Priory also attended in a body. The Cathedral churchwarden, Messrs. H. Smith and Edw. Stiles acted as usher. When the body arrived at the church it was met at the front entrance by the Rev. V. H. Kicat who conducted the service.

The sentences beginning, "I am the resurrection and the life" were read as the body was carried to the chancel and laid in the center of the beautiful floral offerings. The Psalm was intoned, after which the surpliced choir of boys and men sang very effectively the hymn "When our heads are bowed with woe." Mr. Wray Taylor accompanied on the organ. The lesson was read, then the hymn "Brief life is here our portion" finished the service at the Cathedral. As the remains were slowly carried out to the hearse to be taken to their final resting place, the strains of "Home sweet home" were heard from the organ. The interment was at Nuanu cemetery.

The pall bearers were: Messrs. Samuel Parker, W. Porter Boyd, John S. Walker, C. P. Iaukea, W. C. Sproull, L. M. Veltessen, H. M. Whitney, Jr., and L. Hart.

The deceased was a lady of kindly disposition and one of the most popular in the Honolulu society. She was married to James Hay Wodehouse, Jr. about six years ago, the wedding ceremony and reception at the residence of the bride's father, Archibald Scott Cleghorn, being one of the events of the year. Like all Hawaiians, Mrs. Wodehouse was hospitable to a fault and her home was ever open to their acquaintances.

After receiving a liberal education in Honolulu she attended one of the leading seminaries in England with her half sister, Kalulani, the then princess, and became a great social favorite. It was immediately on her return to Honolulu after graduating that she was married to Mr. Wodehouse.

Her education included music, painting and the modern languages in each of which she became proficient. These accomplishments coupled with her sunny disposition made her a favorite everywhere and her sudden death as the result of an operation performed only a few hours before was a severe blow to her friends. Besides her husband, the deceased leaves three children, the youngest only a few weeks old. In their loss the family has the profoundest sympathy of the community.

HAGEY SOCIAL CLUB.

Gives a Very Pleasant Entertainment on Saturday Night.

The members of the Hagey Social Club and their friends to the number of about 50, gathered in the institute rooms on Hotel street Saturday night for the enjoyment of one of the good times for which the club is becoming so well known.

An original poem by J. T. Stewart was read by that gentleman himself, to the great satisfaction and pleasure of all. Mr. Kirkpatrick spoke generally on matters pertaining to the club, and more especially of his trip abroad. Colonel Moore gave a few reminiscences of his trip to the Volcano, the coffee regions of Oahu and the Rainy City.

William Hadley of the O. S. S. Australia gave several selections on the mandolin, showing his perfect mastery over the instrument that is becoming so popular in Honolulu.

BETROOT SUGAR.

Annual Importations Into Great Britain.

The New Zealand Herald of Feb. 18, quotes the following from the Glasgow Herald: We import into Great Britain from the Continent as much beetroot sugar as would keep one million acres of land under cultivation with this root. Every acre requires at least 3 cwt of sulphate of ammonia and 3 cwt superphosphates. Therefore 150,000 tons of sulphate of ammonia (which is nearly the whole quantity of this article manufactured in the United Kingdom) would be required annually. At present most of it is shipped abroad. It also means the consumption of a similar quantity of superphosphates, which also has to find a market abroad to enable the foreigner to grow beetroot and to send its produce of sugar here. The Continental doors are, however, being gradually closed upon the superphosphate-maker here, for they are now making most of these requirements over there. All the beetroot sugar coming from Germany, Austria, France, and sometimes Russia, obtains a bounty from the Governments of the respective countries.

The bounty from Germany, is 25s. per ton, from Austria about £2, and from France about £3. As little of this bounty is given as the dealers are compelled to part with to meet the colonial sugar grower, or the refiner here. As much of the bounty as he can be put into his pocket. The middleman here takes his share of the spoil, the shopkeeper his profit, and the consumer, who is supposed to get all the benefit, is very like the last of the five little pigs, the first of which went to market—he gets none. These bounties, however, small though they are, have prevented, and will always prevent, the introduction of so important an industry as this, so long as they exist. Mr. James Duncan, formerly one of the largest sugar refiners in the kingdom, tried a large experiment at a cost of £80,000, but, notwithstanding his unfortunate experience, he writes:—"No one knows better than I do the advantages of such an industry, and I don't think the Germans, Austrians, or French will allow this lucrative trade to slip out of their hands. It is not the mere sugar that is produced, but when you have a sugar factory it means lots of cattle and splendid crops of grain. But as long as the bounty system exists no one will take up sugar growing in England."

WHARF AND WAVE.

The W. G. Hall will call at the Island of Niihau on this trip.
The U. S. S. Alert, Hanford commander, returned from a cruise to Lahaina yesterday morning.

The American ship Benj. F. Packard, J. W. Dickinson master, arrived in port yesterday afternoon, 26 days from Kobe, Japan, having left that port on February 6th. During 9 days she was within 300 miles of the Islands. The Packard comes to load sugar for Wm. G. Irwin & Co.

There has been a shifting about of pursers on some of the Inter-Island steamers. Purser Pickard is sick and Henry Crane has taken his place on the Waialeale. John Grube is on the Mikahala, Max Olroy has gone back on the W. G. Hall and Guy Kelly is with his old love, the Kaula again.

The American ship E. B. Sutton, C. O. Carter master, arrived in port late yesterday afternoon, 16 days from San Francisco. She experienced strong southeast and southwest gales on her trip, and passed a three-masted schooner on the same course, off Maui, on the night of March 4th. The Sutton comes to load sugar for New York. Captain Carter has his wife with him.

To show somewhat the work that is being done by the Inter-Island fleet the following summary of sugar brought to Honolulu from Tuesday, March 2 to Sunday March 7, is published:
W. G. Hall, 6,385 bags; Mikahala, 4,423; Iwalani, 4,928; Kaula, 7,361; Nocaun, 8,602; Ke Au Hou, 11,484; Waialeale, 9,535; James Makee, 7,669; Kaala, 4,050. Total, 64,437 bags.

The American barkentine S. G. Wilder, McNeill master, arrived Saturday morning, 18 days from San Francisco with a cargo of general merchandise and five horses. For the first four days very rough weather was experienced, a southwest gale blowing most of the time. After that the wind abated and pleasant weather to port was the experience of the Wilder.

The P. M. S. S. Peru, Friele commander, arrived in port and hauled alongside the Pacific Mail wharf about 1 p. m. yesterday. The steamer was put into quarantine immediately, there being 131 Chinese immigrants for this port aboard. The Peru left Yokohama on February 25th, and is one day late in account of very rough weather. At Yokohama the Peru lost two of her propeller blades, but is fixed up all right again.

The O. S. Zealandia, Hayward commander, hauled alongside the Pacific Mail wharf about 1 p. m. yesterday.

Following is the report furnished by the obliging purser, Mr. Thomas Smith: Sailed from Sydney February 15th at 5 p. m.; from Auckland on the 20th, at 2 p. m.; and from Apla, Samoa, on the 26th, at 11 a. m. Good weather all the way. Five cabin and six steerage passengers for Honolulu.

The American bark Amy Turner, Wallen master, arrived in port, and hauled alongside Brewer's wharf at 5:30 p. m. yesterday, 143 days from New York, with a cargo of general merchandise for C. Brewer & Co., and 10,000 cases of oil for Hong Kong. Following is Captain Wallen's report: "Sailed from New York on October 15; on the third day out passed the wreck of the British bark Udsire, timber laden, from Nova Scotia. She was in lat. 34 deg., 14 min. north and lon. 66 deg., 24 min. west; on January 3, in lat. 57 deg., 24 min. south and lon. 69 deg., 28 min. west, spoke American ship Jasept Howes, bound from San Francisco to New York; wished to be reported 'all well'." The Amy Turner had very light wind all the way, with the exception of a few days off Cape Horn.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers; Benson, Smith & Co., Wholesale Agents for Hawaiian Islands.
